

JEFFERSON NOTES.

The people are taking advantage of the fine weather by planting their gardens.

Mr. Horace Black has a peculiar fowl that was hatched last summer. It has the appearance of a Guinea hen, but looks like a pea fowl.

Messrs. Tom Gooch and J. Pain, of Chicago, were the guests of Miss Lettie L. Black.

Miss Lizzie Reed has returned from Nashville.

Our school closed last Friday with appropriate exercises by the children. There was a contest between the following boys and girls: Johnnie Reed, C. Webb, Biddle Drake, R. J. Patterson, John Sanders, Lucy Gooch and Sam Gooch. The children were very sorry to see their beloved teacher, Miss Kittie C. Howse, leave for home, but hope to have her back again next term.

Rev. H. Reed preached an able sermon at Hickory Grove. The Sunday-school is progressing nicely.

CLARKSVILLE NOTES.

The recent catastrophe at Cleveland, Ohio, in which a hundred of lives were lost by fire, has given the Board of Education an incentive to remedy the many defects found in the public school buildings of this place; but it seems that church officials of the several houses of worship are slow to take advantage of the above lesson. Most of the churches of Clarksville are so constructed that a repetition of the frightful affair is likely to occur at any time, unless better arrangements in additional exits for quick dismissal of congregations are made.

All arrangements had just been completed making another addition to ever-increasing leap year marriages, when John Dixon, age 17 years, son of the Hon. Nace Dixon, the councilman, was heard to remark, "Now is the winter of my discontent made glorious," and forthwith announced that Miss Flossie Peacher, a handsome miss of fifteen, was his bride. The ceremony was performed last Monday afternoon at the residence of Rev. Mr. Irving, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion Church. This couple so far holds the record for the youngest led by Cupid to the hymeneal altar.

Last Monday night at Wesley Chapel, a second opportunity was given the maids with mellowed age and prospective ones, widows and the other kind, a chance to be sold to the highest bidder. The lot disposed of at a former sale must not have proved of real worth, as the prices offered at last Monday's sale averaged about six cents a piece. All in all the affair was quite enjoyable.

Last Tuesday afternoon, just in the prime of her life, with neither mother nor father to give succor, and forbid the friendly domicile of relatives, heart-broken over the remorse of a false step and forced by the pangs of want, all that was mortal of Miss Inez Reeves was found in squalid surroundings far from her accustomed home. A few of her former friends, assisted by the public, gave the remains a Christian burial. Short remarks were said by Rev. H. Metcalf, and the interment was at Golden Hill Cemetery.

Fifth Ward Baptist Church has been the scene of stirring revival services for the last two weeks. A number of conversions has been announced.

The installation services, through which the Rev. E. M. Seymour, of Shelbyville, Tenn., became pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, were held before a large concourse of people. Rev. E. M. Lawrence, of Nashville, delivered the sermon and invested Rev. Mr. Seymour with all the rites of pastor. On Monday night the members gave a banquet at Buck's Hall in honor of their newly installed leader.

Mrs. Lula Bell gave a reception last Monday afternoon at her residence from 3 to 6 o'clock. The affair was the usual meeting of the Ladies' Art Club, and was quite an enjoyable social event.

Mr. Albert Meriwether left last Saturday for Chicago, where he goes to accept a position in the postal service, if he is successful in the examination.

Messrs. William Jenkins and James Reeves were in Hopkinsville Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Harland left last Sunday for Champlain, Ill., where she will spend several weeks.

Dr. E. D. Burrus, of Guthrie, was in the city Monday.

Mr. John Bailey came over from Nashville Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Steward returned from Ashland City Sunday.

Messrs. Primrose Watkins and John Steward were in Nashville Sunday and Monday.

Rev. G. C. Smith, of Nashville, passed through city Sunday en route to Edgemoor, Ky.

Rev. B. R. Polk left Monday for Sadlersville, Tenn.

Miss Tenie Anderson wishes now to be called Mrs. Leonard Fletcher. The event was solemnized last Thursday.

The Globe Publishing Company was the recipient one day this week of a beautiful souvenir placard from Mr. H. Singleton, the popular hotel man of Decatur, Ill., which was highly appreciated. Accompanying the gift was a year's subscription for the Globe. Mr. Singleton has been in business for some time and has won the name of being one of the successful young business men of that part of the state in which he lives. His hostelry is fitted up with every modern convenience—there is nothing in Decatur that will surpass it; he has also a large share of the patronage of the public.

PRACTICING FOR THE COTILLION.

From the San Francisco Chronicle. "Nobody ever told me that I was a good dancer," declared Edward M. Greenway, leader of cotillions. "But I'll tell you a compliment a young woman did pay me once. She said: 'You took me through that crowd without a collision and without any one treading on my skirt.'"

"Well, I never had a dancing lesson. They trailed along behind several yards dancing in the days when women wore those great long trains and it was not considered good form to pick them up. They trailed along behind several yards. Those were the days when you had to guide and keep moving with your partner so as to keep that train following gracefully."

"But how did you practise?"

"Used to tie two sheets to an ordinary chair and then dance in and out among a dozen chairs scattered over a dance floor."

PEARL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

This school was favored this week with the presence of a distinguished visitor in the person of Rev. Sutton E. Griggs. Every one who is acquainted with Dr. Griggs is honored by that acquaintance. When in his presence one becomes conscious that he is in the presence of a man of superior powers. Aside from the profundity of his knowledge of books and of men, modesty (as is true of all truly great men) is one of the chief marks of his character. Though simple in words and plain of speech, he is forceful in thought, strong in personality and great in results accomplished. Dr. Griggs ranks to-day as one of the brainiest men of the Negro race, or of any race. Your reporter regrets that he cannot give you the address which he delivered to the school, that the readers of The Globe might have the benefit of it. But the address was so full of good and encouraging thoughts and was delivered in such an earnest and impressive way that the reporter himself became deeply absorbed in the address and dropped his pencil to listen. One point, however, was impressed firmly upon the minds of his hearers. The speaker said: "Nature does things by relays. The life of man is divided into three periods, youth, manhood and old age. Youth is the time for preparation, manhood for achievement, and old age for retirement. The men who are doing the work of the world to-day must finally retire, and give place to the youths who are coming up behind them. The teachers in the schools to-day will have to give way when their work is accomplished, to the very pupils whom they teach. So it is with peoples and nations. The Greeks gave to the world all that is beautiful in art, sculpture and language, but when their work was done they gave place to the Romans; the Romans gave to the world as their contribution to civilization their system of jurisprudence, then they passed into insignificance; the Jews gave the world Religion and their work was done. It remained yet for the Negro to determine what his contribution should be." The speaker said that here in America, under the same skies, under influences of the same climate, was given for the first time in the history of the world an opportunity for the Negro to compete with the white man. He believed that the Negro would play his part well and in the end leave his contribution as a heritage to benefit and bless the world.

Miss E. B. Moore, who has been absent from her post of duty in the Domestic Science Department for the past five weeks, has returned much to the delight of her pupils and fellow teachers.

Dr. F. G. Smith, the principal, is about ready to place his order for Commencement music. Miss C. M. Bryant, the organist of the High School, has been running over several pieces with a view to selection during the past week. Upon her recommendation the principal has decided to organize a Glee Club of ladies' voices, which will present at least one number on the program. Several copies of Lorenz Bros. "Pieces for Female Voices" will be ordered from Dayton, Ohio, within the next few days. "Up and Away March Chorus," by Adam Gelbel, is being considered for the opening chorus.

DELECTABLE DINNER.

Mrs. Dora Merrill, of 903 Eleventh avenue, North, entertained Rev. J. W. Cook, the eminent evangelist, Rev. T. J. Townsend, D. D., and Mrs. N. E. Dunlap at an elaborate dinner last Sunday afternoon. The dining-room was decorated in a manner appropriate to the occasion, and the repast, which was perfect in every detail, was thoroughly enjoyed by those who partook of the hospitality of the hostess.

MOUNT OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Great revival meetings are being held at Mt. Olive Missionary Baptist Church, Cedar street, near Ninth avenue. Dr. C. H. Clark, the pastor, is being ably assisted by Rev. C. P. M. Bigbee, D. D., of Elkton, Ky., a minister well known throughout the South as an evangelist of great power. Dr. Bigbee assisted Dr. Clark in revival services some time ago, and endeared himself to the people of this city by his gentlemanly ways and Christian bearing. During the present meetings much interest has been manifested, and twenty-two or more have professed faith in the Saviour and joined the church.

A DELECTABLE CALICO DANCE.

Almost unique in the entirety, and certainly unique in many of its appointments insofar as Nashville is concerned, was the Calico Dance given at the Odd Fellows auditorium Tuesday night. Not only was this social affair notable as being out of the ordinary in its appointments, but it is entitled to be ranked with the pleasantest affairs of the season.

As the name would indicate, all the ladies present were dressed in calico costumes made especially for the occasion while each of the gentlemen was supplied with a calico tie to match the costume of his company. As the ladies with their vari-colored costumes and the gentlemen in evening dress with incongruous ties, glided across the highly polished floor, the scene presented was one beautiful in the extreme—a veritable symphony in colors. A symphony which gave testimony to the rare taste and deft management of Mrs. C. N. Langston, who planned and directed the whole affair. The dance program consisted of sixteen numbers and frequently the orchestra compelled to respond to encores. Throughout the evening punch was served from a dias, as it were, which was very tastefully decorated with cut flowers. Acting as chaperones to the dance were the following: Messdames J. C. Napier, W. H. Hodgkins, Marshall Cheatham, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Langston, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Belsaw, Dr. C. V. Roman, Dr. E. B. Jefferson. Among others present were Misses L. E. Badger, G. A. Bradford, Virginia Broughton, Carrie M. Bryant, Esther Polk Berry, Lena Compton, Palladium Compton, Queenetta Compton, Grace Frank, Frankie Caldwell, Jennie Childress, Hazel Thompson, Minnie Hunter, Elizabeth Moore, Lady Emma Louise Phillips, Messrs. J. A. Napier, Lorenzo Johnson, J. O. Battle, D. W. Crutcher, Frank Bailey, Eugene T. Page, Isaiah Martin, Alex. Beatty, T. Clay Moore, Booker T. Washington, Jr., E. W. Ezidore, G. W. Allison, R. A. Dobson, H. B. Barnes, Theo. Mozee.
